Second Letter From Peer
Is Read in Legislature

A second letter from the Right Honorable Lord Sempill was read in the Legislature Friday afternoon by Hon. Peter Dawson, Speaker of the Assembly. Before reading the letter, the Speaker quoted a parliamentary authority which states he has the right to "read communications addressed to the Assembly, should he so desire. The first letter from Lord Sempill, who was a recent member in Edmonton and who sat on the floor of the Legislative Assembly during opening ceremonies, thanked the Speaker for the privilege accorded, and proceeded to enumerate economic matters which later drew objections from the Independent group in the Legislature. A telegram from J. Percy Page, secretary of the Independent House group, brought this second letter from the British peer.—EDITOR.

Farm Estimates Before Commons

Review of agricultural department estimates began in the House of Commons Friday, when announcement was made that wheat acreage reduction payments will not be continued this year. Speakers discussing the question included Lt.-Col. Arthur Ross (PC—Souris), G. H. Castleden (CCF—Yorkton), John Blackmore (ND Leader), and Gordon Ross (L—Moose Jaw). Questions of naturalization and deportation were also raised at Friday's sitting, with several members entering the discussion. Speakers included Howard Green (PC—Vancouver South), J. W. Noseworthy (CCF—York South), Liguori Lacombe (CDN—Laval-Two Mountains), Rev. E. G. Hansell (ND—Macled), Anthony H. Lynskey (ND—Vegreville), Capt. Walter Tucker (L—Rosethorn), and Hon. Greta Stirling (PC—Yale). Full reports appear on page 3.

Bandit Gets $700 In Coast Robbery

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Feb. 19.—(CP)—A handsome, black-haired bandit with a southern drawl held up J. T. Drybrough here last night, forced him and his family into their car at gun point, made them drive to the hardware store Mr. Drybrough manages and robbed the store of $700. Police said the robber is thought to be the same man who held up the Stanley theatre in Vancouver Feb. 9.

Wheat Acreage Increase Likely

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Abandonment of wheat acreage reduction payments will likely bring about an increase of wheat planting in Western Canada this year, Ottawa observers believe, though official government has set the 1943 wheat acreage as the 1944 objective. The guaranteed minimum price of $1.25 a bushel, plus prospective participation payments, will probably induce many farmers to sow more wheat than they did in 1943. In Western Canada, 16,700,000 acres were sown to wheat in 1943, a reduction of 4,000,000 acres from 1942.

Gets U.S. Award

Sgt. John Allison Parfett, 23, of Bruce, Alta., is one of six Canadian members of the U.S.-Canada Special Service Force now serving in Italy to be awarded the American Silver Star for "gallantry in action." It was officially announced today. Sgt. Parfett enlisted in the Edmonton Fusiliers in Sept. 1940, later transferring to the First Canadian Paratroop Battalion. After Special Service Force training, he took part in the Aleutian landings and left for overseas last September. A brother, Sigmund, Jim Parfett is also fighting in Italy. Father of the two soldiers, J. Parfett, Sr., is a grain agent at Bruce, while their sister Peggy, 14, and young brother Don, 5, are Bulletin carriers in the town. Unofficial report of Sgt. Parfett's award appeared in The Bulletin last week.

Two Albertans Canucks With Special Force Given Awards

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Defence headquarters last night announced that six Canadians, members of an American-Canadian unit of specially trained and equipped troops now serving in the Mediterranean theatre, have been awarded the United States silver star for "gallantry in action."

The announcement said the King has granted those decorated "unrestricted permission for the wearing of the following decorations which have been conferred: . . . in recognition of distinguished services in the cause of the Allies, by the President of the United States."

THOSE DECORATED

The six are: Lieut. John Donald Mitchell, 22, Helena, Montana and also Halifax; Staff Sgt. Leopold Henry Rudolph, 25, Winnipeg; Sgt. Camille Gagnon, 24, Montreal; Sgt. John Allison Parfett, 23, Bruce, Alta.; Sgt. Ronald Alexander Stirling, 23, Calgary; and Robert Bruce Aitken, 23, Montreal.

(Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, reported Feb. 11 it had been learned in London that Canadian special service troops were fighting alongside British and United States forces on the Nettuno beachhead south of Rome as part of a Canadian-American special service force previously in action on the main Allied 5th Army front.)

The troops were trained in Montana as Commandos, infantrymen, paratroopers and guerrillas before going to Italy. They wear composite Canadian-American uniforms of special design with flashes reading "U.S.A.-Canada" on the shoulder.

Light Snow, Rain Recorded in City

Occasional light snowflurries and a light drizzle of rain fell in the city Friday afternoon, according to weather officials. Weather officials predict a continuance of the same conditions over the weekend. The forecast is "partly cloudy and mild, becoming overcast with light snowflurries tonight."

To Escape Trap Nazis in Full Flight Toward Baltic States

By HARRISON SALISBURY

MOSCOW, Feb. 19.—German forces below Lake Ilmen appeared to be in full retreat toward the Baltic states today in an attempt to escape a new Soviet trap threatening the railway junctions of Pskov and Dno.

Yielding the fortress of Staraya Russa and Shims, 28 miles to the northwest, the Germans fell back westward along the railway and highway to Pskov as Soviet armies cut deeper into their northern flank and endangered their route of retreat. Front reports indicated the enemy also would abandon Dno, junction of the Pskov-Staraya Russa and Leningrad-Vitebsk railways, and fall back to a new line based on Pskov and Polotsk, only a few miles east of the Latvian border.

SMASH RESISTANCE

Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad armies, smashing through disorganized enemy resistance in the woods and swamps east of Lake Peipus and south of Luga, drove to within 30 miles north of Dno and 35 miles north of Pskov, killing upwards of 1,000 Germans. Lashing out in a co-ordinated offensive, Russian forces below Lake Ilmen captured ancient Staraya Russa, which had resisted all Soviet assaults for two years.

Gen. Kyril A. Meretskov's Novgorod forces simultaneously captured Shims, at the southwestern corner of Lake Ilmen, 28 miles northwest of Staraya Russa, and pushed on to Vyeshka, 35 miles northeast of Dno. More than 2,000 Germans were killed at Shims.

Fleet Air Arm Pilots at Coast

VANCOUVER, Feb. 19.—(CP)—The Royal Navy's fleet air arm is using a base on the west coast to help carry the war against the Axis in the Pacific.

Trained in eastern United States, pilots of the Fleet Air Arm flew their machines across the continent to complete their training on the coast pending posting to aircraft carriers now being outfitted in Vancouver.

The naval pilots use a tiny section of the air field where they are based, landing and taking off from a space equivalent to the deck of an aircraft carrier.

The Royal Canadian Navy is studying the organization of a fleet air arm similar to the British organization, which is composed of men chosen from the ranks of British seamen. Canadian navy personnel who are already helping man aircraft carriers on this port may also have a chance to fly from flat tops.

Up to $5,000,000 Provision of Large Sums For Agriculture Research Is Suggested in Commons

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Suggestion that the government appropriate from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 for agricultural research or to aid co-operatives prepared to undertake such work was made last night in the Commons by T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn).

He also suggested Agriculture Minister Gardiner should make an immediate statement on prices to be paid for coarse grains this fall, to encourage farmers now considering their seeding programs.

W. G. Weir (L.P., Macdonald) said members urging agricultural research had failed to recognize the work in this regard already done by various branches of the agriculture department. Department officials had not received proper credit for research work.

Men of the R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. like to talk shop after they have finished the day or night's work of blasting Hitler's Fortress Europe and the current mass raids against the German Reich are what makes all the conversation around bomber and fighter stations in Britain these days.

New Strike Street Cars Not Running In Montreal

MONTREAL, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Montrealers got to work as best they could today—or stayed at home in the warmth—as more than 4,000 striking tramway operators remained away from work as the outcome of a tangled jurisdictional dispute. Not a tram or bus moved this morning, with the next step in the walk-out apparently awaiting result of a meeting of strikers in Alwater market later in the morning. An attempt was made to gather the workers at the market last night but it came too late and only a few hundred men turned out. The strike that disrupted the city's transportation service for the second time within a year started on a small scale yesterday afternoon when members of a Canadian Congress of Labor affiliate refused at one east end car-barn to operate cars with members of an American Federation of Labor affiliate. The company suspended those who refused to work, and the stoppage spread quickly throughout the city after that, with other operators having as their avowed objective the reinstatement of the suspended men. Officials of the C.C.L. denied any responsibility for the walk-out and in a statement said that responsibility rested with the company for not signing a new agreement creating a closed shop for the C.C.L. It appeared probable that the matter of the closed shop was the basic cause of the trouble, with the suspension of a few men merely the spark that set off the strike. The company later offered to reinstate the men, but the strike continued.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Clifford T. planes of all types had given the Germans a record pounding. Nevertheless the counter-attacking British and Americans had absorbed the initial impact of the supreme Nazi bid so far to throw them out of their beachhead, and they were reported inflicting tremendous casualties on the enemy.

The area below Aprilia where the Allies were forced back is about in the centre of the beachhead, in territory recently occupied by the Germans.

The weather closed down on the beachhead as the Germans unleashed their attack, concentrating it along the Anzio-Rome road and at the same time applying pressure against other parts of the Allied arc.

In lieu of aerial support, the guns of warships on patrol off the beachhead again went into action as artillery backing up the defenders.

For the seventh straight night R.A.F. and Canadian Wellington bombers flew close support missions for the beachhead. They threw their main weight against transport centres and lines back of the battlefield.

Hit Many Buildings

Nazi Fire Raid on London Heaviest Blow Since Blitz

By PHIL AULT
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A German fire raid penetrated London's strong anti-aircraft defences early today, scored direct bomb hits on several crowded residential buildings and kindled many blazes, inflicting the heaviest casualties and damage of any night since the blitz.

An undetermined number of persons were reported trapped in an apartment block and in another section, civilian defence workers still were digging in the ruins of an old people's home for survivors hours after the raiders had left.

A joint air and home security ministry communique did not claim that a single raider was shot down over Britain, raising speculation that there was some truth to German claims that the Luftwaffe employed new tactics.

ADMIT 5 PLANES LOST

A German DNB news agency report mentioning the new tactics acknowledged that five bombers were missing, revising an earlier announcement that seven had failed to return.

Unofficial estimates said that 50 to 60 German planes crossed the British coast and that a larger proportion than usual reached the London area because of weather which favored the attackers.

Although the raid caused what were believed the heaviest casualties and damage since the big German raids of 1940-41, it could not be compared with the blitz in which 250 to 400 bombers came over nightly, climaxed by the devastating bombing of May 5, 1941, that killed 1,436 persons.

A deafening barrage of flak met the raiders as searchlights illuminated almost the entire sky over the city. British night fighters also swept up to meet the invading force.

CANADIAN TROOPS AID

The official communique reported that the attacks also ranged over East Anglia and southeast England, but said the casualties and the only appreciable damage was confined to the London area.

Civilian defence workers called for neighborhood volunteers to assist in the rescue of victims trapped in the wrecked apartment block.

Canadian soldiers pitched in to help both the rescue squads and the fire brigades fighting a number of blazes dotted over the city. They organized themselves into squads in another district to help rescue the occupants of threatened buildings.

Berlin broadcast the usual report that "several hundred" German bombers participated in the attack, dropping "thousands" of incendiaries and explosives.

Funds For Farm Research Work Asked in House

and gaining full possession of their farms, although G. H. Castleden (C.C.F., Yorkton) had claimed in a speech earlier yesterday that tenantry in Canada was on the increase.

Mr. Weir said the co-operative movement had made progress under the so-called capitalist form of government and the C.C.F. should stop claiming that it alone supported co-operatives.

The development of quick-freezing plants and processing of new specialized products in local plants should be considered, said Mr. Weir.

E. E. Perley (P.C., Qu'Appelle) said the government wheat price of $1.25 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William should have been announced in July rather than in September. Then all 1943 wheat would have been delivered to the wheat board, the government buying agency.

NEEDED "LONG AGO"

Western farmers were better off than they had been but higher prices should have been granted "long ago." The $1.25 wheat price could just as well have been $1.45. Farmers were not "calamity howlers" but they wanted a fair price.

Write-offs on seed loans in Saskatchewan were proposed and perhaps such action would require a supplementary item in the federal department estimates. Every assistance should be given to co-operating farmers.

A board of livestock commissioners should be established, said Mr. Perley. The House agriculture committee had several meetings last year but its report was not moved for acceptance in the House. This year the committee should be put to work in good time so its report could be considered before adjournment.

U.S. PRICES BETTER

W. Bryce (C.C.F.—Selkirk) said he could have made $35 a head more on steers sold in the United States than in Canada.

(Beef cattle shipments to the United States are not permitted at present.) Existing Canadian prices were insufficient to give the farmer a profit.

In hogs, there were eight different grades between the producer and the packer, 24 from the packer to the Canadian Meat Board and two from the meat board to the British food ministry. If the farmer produced a hog of export quality he should receive the export price. The present system works to the advantage of the packer not the farmer.

A subsidy payable on feed grains should be payable to the farmer who produced grain and fed it to his own livestock. Otherwise hog production would be reduced.

STATEMENTS INACCURATE

Mr. Gardiner said 73.8 per cent of all hogs taken into exporting slaughter plants graded "A" or "B1" in the week ended Feb. 12. This showed the inaccuracy of statements to the effect many hogs were given low grades. The same ratio carried throughout the year.

During the week ended Feb. 12 the amount of pork secured for export was 20,300,000 pounds compared to 20,800,000 pounds the previous week and 9,300 pounds the same week the previous year. The amount put down for export was

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19.—(BUP)—Charles Bedaux, internationally known financier and inventor, died in a Miami hospital last night from an overdose of luminol self-administered several days ago.

Bedaux, 56, had been held by immigration authorities here who were determining the validity of his citizenship acquired in 1917.

His death occurred as two special assistant attorneys-general, Edward J. Ennis and John J. Burling, were preparing to seek federal grand jury indictment for treason growing out of Bedaux's activities in Vichy France and North Africa prior to the American invasion of the latter.

less than the production of the grade "A" and "B1" hogs slaughtered. It was not correct to say that low grade hogs were going into export shipments.

Mr. Gardiner said the establishment of local markets for livestock would be a good thing for the farmer. It would enable one farmer who had feed to buy feeder stock from nearby farmers instead of having them shipped 50 or 100 miles to a central market and shipped out again, adding all shipping charges to the cost of the finished animal.

Crew of Plane Bails Out And Then "Fun" Begins

By HENRY B. JAMESON

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Hundreds of airmen have parachuted from their planes but it is doubtful any crew had such cock-eyed experiences as the 10 men in a United States heavy bomber who bailed out when their plane caught fire over England recently.

One gunner was knocked cold when he hit the ground and woke up in the arms of a beautiful English girl who kissed him.

Another landed in the middle of a railroad track in front of a speeding train. The co-pilot plopped down near a harbor and wound up drinking sherry with an R.A.F. air vice-marshal, while the ball turret gunner dropped in a marsh 500 feet from the sea and sank up to his ears in mud.

Base Donations To Charity on Past Average

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Corporations may continue making charitable contributions up to the average of their givings in the two years prior to July 1, 1942, without being affected by the finance department's new rule on tax exemptions, Finance Minister Isley announced in the House of Commons last night.

It was a modification of the arrangement announced Jan. 31 which served notice that from then on no company by charitable contributions could obtain a tax advantage greater than that obtained by a business not subject to the 100-per cent excess profits tax.

ALLOW FIVE PER CENT

The present law allows a company, in computing profits for tax purposes, to deduct charitable contributions up to five per cent of its income.

When the corporation tax rate was 15 per cent that meant the government was subsidizing such contributions to the extent of 15 cents on the dollar. Now the minimum corporation tax rate is 40 per cent and the contributions are being subsidized to the extent of 40 cents on the dollar.

Firms subject to the 100-per cent excess profits tax, however, paid their entire charitable contributions out of funds which would otherwise go to the treasury, said Mr. Isley. The amendment was announced Jan. 31, and which was to be made law in the forthcoming budget, would have limited benefits to the level attained by firms not subject to the 100-per cent tax.

No change will be made in the general principle, but the new rule will not apply except to contributions greater than the average in the two years before the 100-per cent excess profits tax came into effect.

GIVES EXAMPLE

"For example," he said, "if a company made charitable contributions totalling $8,000 in one of these two years and $12,000 in the other, its average annual contribution for the two years would be $10,000. It will then be allowed to continue to receive the full tax advantage of $10,000 of contributions in fiscal periods ending after Jan. 31, 1944.

"The proposed limitation which I announced Jan. 31st, will apply, however, when contributions made are above the average established by the record of 1940 and 1941, as referred to above.

"That is, the limitation will apply to that portion of the amount of contributions not subscribed on or before Jan. 31, 1944, which results in the total amount contributed in the tax year of the business being in excess of the average amount contributed in the last two fiscal years of the business concerned ending before July 1, 1942.

The present five-per-cent limitation with respect to the total volume of deductions allowed will, of course, continue to operate."

17 Army Fliers, Crewmen Killed In Dual Crash

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Seventeen army fliers and crewmen were killed yesterday after two heavy bombers on a training mission locked wings and crashed on the rugged Salt River Indian reservation, 20 miles northeast of Phoenix, the public relations office at nearby Williams Field reported. Not a man escaped. Seven men were aboard one plane and 10 in the other.

R.A.F. "Well Fixed" For Air Personnel

States Invasion Across Channel May Never Come

TORONTO, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Quentin Reynolds set Toronto newspapermen back on their heels last night with a one-hour informal chat in which he said a European invasion across the channel was so difficult a task it might never happen.

In a hurried appearance at the Toronto Press Club inaugural meeting before a public address at Maple Leaf Gardens, the American magazine writer told of his study of German defence plans. He said his findings were so pessimistic they would not stand publication.

Reynolds, who covered the costly operations at Dieppe and Salerno, described in detail the concrete-bedded Nazi defence in depth on the 1,500-mile front from the Netherlands to Spain.

Police Probing Damage to Truck

City police were investigating Saturday a case of alleged wilful damage to a truck owned by Andrew Shymka, Smoky Lake, by the pouring of emery dust into the oil intake. Suspected of the offence was a former partner of Shymka, police said.

The truck had been left in care of Walter Gulinsky, Edmonton, said Shymka. He said that after some disagreement with his partner, the latter was alleged to have said he would "fix" the truck so that Gulinsky could not drive it.

After the motor had been dismantled, it was found that all connecting rods had been burned out, police said.

Payments Halted Canada Faces No Danger Of Wheat Shortage Even If Current Crop Is Poor

By JAMES McCOOK

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said yesterday in the Commons that despite heavy proposed shipments of wheat to the United States there is no danger of a shortage in Canada even if this year's crop is poor.

The House began a review of agricultural department estimates totalling $17,623,052 after approving non-war defence department estimates amounting to $56,010.

Mr. Gardiner announced that wheat acreage reduction payments will not be continued this year. The program, designed to reduce wheat production when surpluses were at record levels, required an appropriation of $32,081,000 in 1943-44. The 1944-45 appropriation of $4,265,000 was expected to be sufficient to settle remaining claims and cover administration costs.

HOLIDAY ABANDONED

The House gave evidence of determination to speed the session by accepting without comment a government suggestion for sitting on Friday evenings, abandoning a holiday which usually prevails until later in the session.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said he would move Monday that the House not sit on Wednesdays, leaving that day free each week for committee work.

If full discussion were held in committee, House debates would likely be shorter, some members have said in the past.

Lt.-Col. Arthur Ross (PC-Souris) said a dominion-provincial conference in December had decided Canada should not increase wheat production in 1944 but the United States had decided on an increase. A year ago wheat storage had been more than 463,000,000 bushels but today it was only 348,000,000. An announcement had been made of United States plans to buy 175,000,000 bushels.

Mr. Gardiner replied that wheat, oats and barley acreages would be about the same as in 1943 and they were the main crops used for feed.

Canada was a party to an agreement of wheat-exporting nations which covered acreage reductions but conditions since had perhaps made it necessary to depart from strict interpretation of the terms. The United States had asked farmers to increase wheat and feed grains by some 14,000,000 acres for feed purposes. He said he assumed the agreement was being followed in respect to wheat production for human food.

SEES NO OBJECTION

Mr. Gardiner said he did not think there would be objection to wheat being substituted for barley in Canada as a feed crop in dry districts where wheat would grow best. The Canadian contribution of 25,000,000 bushels to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration would have little effect on Canadian stocks.

"We thought it wise that our farmers should not seed more acreage this year for the production of wheat to be marketed for human consumption than they had seeded in 1943," the minister continued.

"The question of feed is a different matter. We are asking our people to seed approximately 1,000,000 more acres in oats and approximately the same acreage in barley, or just a little more. We believe that with the carryover we have in the country at present our position will be well taken care of if our wheat follows these directions for 1944."

The United States was prepared to take 175,000,000 bushels of wheat, but no transportation organization had been able to promise it could be shipped.

DEPENDS ON CROP

If there were a poor crop in 1944, the wheat storage figures might look different next fall "but they certainly would not look sufficiently different to put us in the position of being short of feed in Canada," G. H. Castleden (CCF-Yorkton) said that only in the fifth year of war did farm prices approach production costs. Farmers were faced with increasing prices for machinery and parts.

He said he complained of the distribution of grain railway cars to elevator companies. Privately-owned grain companies received preferred treatment as compared

No Additional Govt. Aid For Beet Growers

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley said last night in the Commons the government does not plan further aid to sugar beet production but intends to continue tax concessions to encourage output.

Mr. Ilsley said that during the past few weeks the government had received representations about sugar beets, some suggesting additional assistance to production and others asking that present prices be maintained until the 1944 crop was marketed.

"I hate to think there is neglect and I hate to think there is stupidity, but there is something terribly wrong," he said.

In one area there were 20,000 lambs which should have moved to markets weeks ago but there was no prospect of moving them and farmers had to hold them at a time when meatless Tuesdays were in force and people were told a meat shortage existed.

Mr. Blackmore, New Democracy leader, said the marketing of livestock in Alberta was far from satisfactory and read telegrams from the province in support of his statement.

"I hate to think there is neglect and I hate to think there is stupidity, but there is something terribly wrong," he said.

Mr. Blackmore said he had warned earlier in the war that there would be a sugar shortage. The shortage had developed, and sugar beet growers were asking for a rebate of one-half cent a pound on the excise tax on sugar refined in Canada. There had been no reply from the government.

Gordon Ross (L-Moose Jaw) said Mr. Castleden had made some of the "wildest statements" that could be made about agriculture. Such statements were frequently made by C.C.F. members.

Year after year, he said, he had listened to C.C.F. criticism of the policies brought down by Mr. Gardiner. They had found fault with everything.

"I want to say if you go back and find the position this country was in in regard to agriculture and follow the minister's policy right through you will find he was dead right all along the line," said Mr. Ross.

When Mr. Gardiner subsidized coarse grain production he had been criticized.

"Where would we be today if he had not done so," Mr. Ross asked.

Continuing his speech at the night sitting, Mr. Ross said agricultural policies followed by Mr. Gardiner have "paid big dividends to the Allies in this war." Year by year Mr. Gardiner had made it possible to produce more food and sell that food in Canada or ship it to the Allies overseas.

Relying on criticism from G. H. Castleden (CCF-Yorkton) that farm prices had not yet increased sufficiently, Mr. Ross said he could speak as a farmer.

"I can say that nothing in Canada has risen so much in price as farm products in the last two years," he said. It was to the credit of Mr. Gardiner that this has happened.

Mr. Ross, who last year advocated increased research on agriculture and the use of agricultural products, said he agreed with Mr. Graydon that the increased amount of money set aside for that purpose this year was still not large enough.

No Additional Govt. Aid For Beet Growers

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley said last night in the Commons the government does not plan further aid to sugar beet production but intends to continue tax concessions to encourage output.

Mr. Ilsley said that during the past few weeks the government had received representations about sugar beets, some suggesting additional assistance to production and others asking that present prices be maintained until the 1944 crop was marketed.

There had been a reduction of one-half cent a pound in the excise tax on sugar in 1942 and an additional one-half cent cut was made in 1943. These reductions, taken in association with the prices being received, had improved returns and in Alberta and Manitoba had resulted in increased production.

But in Ontario the assistance had failed to bring increases since farmers preferred other crops because of labor conditions.

Mr. Ilsley said the government had been encouraging greater production of soybeans and other crops. While the world sugar outlook was less favorable, this did not necessarily mean more Canadian land should be transferred to sugar beets in preference to certain other crops.

The government deemed it inadvisable to increase the assistance to sugar beet production, a matter in which provincial governments had always taken a special interest, said Mr. Ilsley, but the Dominion would not remove excise tax concessions.

The government controlled imports of cane sugar and it could see no prospect of a reduction in the price of sugar during the 1944 crop period.

Seek Permission For Railway Line

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—The Kettle Valley Railway Co. gave notice yesterday in the Commons that it will apply at the present session of parliament for permission to construct a railway line from a point on its Osoyoos subdivision at or near Haynes, B.C., south along the Okanagan River and Osoyoos Lake to a point at or near Osoyoos. The line would be about 10 miles long.

Study Planned On Question Of Citizenship

OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver South), speaking in the House of Commons Friday, and supported by several other members, said naturalization and deportation regulations should be reviewed by the committee on the Defence of Canada Regulations. With the approval of Justice Minister St. Laurent, a motion setting up the committee was amended to make such study possible.

Mr. Green said the committee last year recommended a study of naturalization and deportation regulations.

Committee sittings should be open to the press instead of being in camera, he said.

Representations might be invited from naturalization judges in Canada since many of them felt the regulations might well be revised.

CANADA LEADS EMPIRE

More people had been naturalized in Canada than in all the other parts of the Empire put together. Applications for citizenship should have an opportunity for instruction in Canadian laws, and receive an official welcome into citizenship.

Young Canadians generally might be welcomed into citizenship at ceremonies when they became 21, said Mr. Green. Dual citizenship had to be considered, since many Japanese who were Canadian felt they were also citizens of Japan.

If little importance were attached to naturalization, then citizenship would be held or little account. J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F.-York South) said he supported Mr. Green's suggestion for extending the committee's powers.

Liguori Lacombe (C.D.N.-Laval-Two Mountains) said he would support the extension in the hope it might help clarify the case of Camille Houde, former mayor of Montreal who was interned in 1940, and of many others. Mr. Houde was interned after advising the people of Montreal not to comply with naturalization regulations.

Rev. E. G. Hansell (N.D.-Macleod), supporting the amendment, said naturalization had been refused applicants who could not read or write. There should be schools of preparation for those seeking naturalization.

LANGUAGE DIFFICULT

Many came to Canada by invitation years ago, and the older people found it laborious to learn the English language. They had wished to become naturalized when the war began and were refused naturalization because they could not read or write. A deadline might be set after which none could enter as immigrants unless they could read and write; but at present some who could not had been denied naturalization. Although they had been in Canada many years they were denied old age pensions.

Anthony Hlynka (ND-Vegreville) said mothers of men now overseas who had not been naturalized were unable to obtain old-age pensions and had to go on relief.

Justice Minister St. Laurent said the government had no objection to the committee looking into naturalization and deportation and that Mr. Green's amendment was acceptable.

Capt. Walter Tucker (L-Rosyth) said some "worthy citizens" were excluded under existing naturalization laws. If a judge were hostile he could refuse naturalization in cases where an aged person admitted he would seek an old-age pension after naturalization.

PROVISION FOR REVIEW

There should be provision for review of the decisions of naturalization judges, who now had "arbitrary" power.

Hon. Grose Stirling (PC-Yale) said the public desired a more uniform method deciding whether naturalization should be granted.

Ralston Believes Vimy Memorial Remains Intact

The caretaker and assistant caretaker of the memorial are known to be interned, said the minister. Their salaries were being set aside for them.

Trucks have been hauling the huge cakes to the ice company's storehouses for summer use, and the trails made by the heavily-laden trucks down the river to the high level bridge are rutted and well-worn.

The New Oil Supply

Completion of the Canol pipeline brings into being one of the major wartime projects undertaken in Canada. The primary purpose was to make oil available for the Allied fighting forces in the North Pacific area. While conditions have changed drastically, this does not condemn the project as an emergency war measure, for an emergency unquestionably existed when it was planned and started.

That the pipeline will be useless in after-war years is sheer assumption. Men have gone into quite as remote places and spent as much money to bring oil to sea-boards in other parts of the world; and our post-war world will need more oil than the pre-war world ever used. General Somervell, who should know if anyone does, has rated the Mackenzie oilfield with the largest on the continent. That the valves will be shut and this great oil supply left imprisoned in the ground when the immediate cause of the development ceases to operate does not seem at all probable.

Wiped Out

Hitler's ten trapped divisions in the Cherkassy pocket are no more. Of an estimated 80,000 men caught in the trap, Moscow reports that 52,000 were killed, 11,000 captured, 2000 to 3000 were flown out to safety, the others are being hunted down in the woods and hills where they sought to hide.

From the outside of the death ring Von Manstein is reported to have lost 20,000 men in furious attempts to break through, and 600 or more tanks. This brings the total enemy losses well up toward 100,000 men, 300 airplanes and more than 1000 tanks, plus the booty captured by the Red forces when the battle ended. It is the most costly defeat suffered by the Nazis since Stalingrad.

"Liquidation" of this desperately resisting Nazi force frees perhaps twice as many Russian troops for action against the weakened enemy barring the road to Rumania. In that already panicky satellite state the effect is bound to be far-reaching, for there cannot be much hope now that invasion can be blocked, or even long delayed. If Rumania does not "bolt" this will probably be for the same reason that Finland has not dropped out of the Axis line-up—that the country is too heavily garrisoned with German troops.

Japan's Inner Outposts

The air attack on Ponape island marked another lifting of the creeping barrage that United States forces are directing against enemy positions in the central Pacific. This Jap base is only 400 miles from Truk, and the apparent purpose is to capture both bases without delay. When that is done the enemy hold on the Carolines will be badly shattered, and the next important group to the west is—the Philippines.

The raid on Ponape was the prelude to an all-out assault on Truk by the largest task force the Allies have yet assembled in the Pacific. This is the greatest of all the bases the Japanese have established outside Japan. They have spent twenty years perfecting it for both offensive and defensive purposes. Truk and Ponape are the last major strongholds barring the road to Tokyo and Manila from Pearl Harbor and from the Solomons. Their loss would wreck the island defence line behind which Tojo and his pals planned their scheme of conquest.

It may be that the attack on these bases will draw the Japanese battle fleet into action and precipitate the greatest naval engagement of all time in the Pacific. Tokyo rather suggests the contrary. The commander, it says, is waiting for "golden opportunity" to attack the Allied battle fleet. He can't be looking very hard, or is looking in the wrong direction, if he doesn't see the need of doing something to save the Carolines.

An Industrial Peace Plan

The new Labor Code introduced in parliament by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell is approved by the leaders of organized labor and is the more likely to be satisfactory to employers generally.

The plan safeguards the right of employees to belong to unions; forbids unions controlled or financed by employers; makes collective bargaining compulsory; and bans strikes, strike threats and slow downs without compliance with the conciliation regulations. While the Code is to apply only to war industries and national industries at the outset, any provincial government can make it apply to all industry within the provincial boundaries.

The Code covers much the same ground as the much-discussed interim wage order, and if the latter is not repealed it will presumably be recast so as to conform with the letter and spirit of the legislation. Because it is legislation, and will be fully discussed in parliament, the code will be more willingly accepted than even the same terms would be if embodied in an order-in-council.

The proposed Code is conciliatory in tone and purpose, and in this conforms to the general trend of labor policy and legislation from the time the present Prime Minister framed the first Conciliation Act, now many years ago. There is every reason to suppose that it will make for industrial peace and uninterrupted operation; and this is the main public interest in labor relations.

Tailoring Restrictions

It is reported that the wartime restrictions on men's tailoring have been largely lifted in England. In short, Englishmen may again enjoy double-breasted suits and pleated trousers, as they did in the halcyon days before the struggle.

It is not a vital matter, but a good many thousands of Canadians are beginning to wonder why these restrictions, lifted in England, should still prevail in Canada.

Canadians would doubtless be happy to travel in breech-clouts, provided they were warm enough, if the adoption of that quaint and abbreviated costume would help to win the war. Nor will Canadians begrudge their English brothers any luxuries after the hardships they have undergone for four dreadful years.

Nevertheless, it is galling to reflect that these restrictions still hang on in Canada when the necessity for them has apparently passed.

The stories of wool shortage conflict sharply with other stories of jobbers' warehouses being packed with raw wool all over the United States.

Perhaps someone on the Wartime Prices and Trade Board would be good enough to explain this conflict in reports and give some adequate reason, other than the customary terse and almost offensive statement, why Canadians so inclined may not have double-breasted suits and pleated pants like their good friends in England.

Vienna is added to the list of cities in the Reich which have been evacuated, are being evacuated, or are to be evacuated. Herr Hitler is operating the biggest officially-engineered "back to the land" movement of all time. There shouldn't be any lack of farm help—such as it is—in his empire.

A farmer of the Sturgeon settlement gives the following statement which has a pointed bearing on the question of freight rates. Last year he raised 3,000 bushels of oats, of which 2,500 bushels were for sale. This amount of oats was worth $800 and would have occupied a month in hauling it to market. Last summer he brought $900 worth of pork to town in just three loads.

Earth Not Storehouse of Mankind But Security Of Bankers

By HAROLD L. WEIR

Recently I seized the occasion, in this space, to comment on the extraordinary fact that the demand for monetary reform had now extended through all classes and conditions of society. I observed, as I recollect, that the movement towards monetary reform, which was once regarded as the peculiar property of crackpots and ne'er-do-wells, is now endorsed by most of the substantial and sound thinkers of this decade.

Harold L. Weir

There has fallen into my hands, this week, a document which offers remarkable and timely proof of this contention.

It is a copy of a letter which has been sent by some of the most eminent and distinguished men in Britain to the highest ranking ecclesiastical authorities of the British Isles.

The text of this letter is the inquiry of the private monopoly on currency and credit. The appeal of this letter is for a national control of money and credit.

It is so concisely and vigorously put that I can do no better than quote it in full:

First Step

"We, all of British blood and descent, having studied the fundamental causes of the present world unrest, have long been forced to the conclusion that an essential first step towards the return of human happiness and brotherhood with economic security and liberty of life and conscience, such as will permit the Christian ethic to flourish again, is the immediate resumption by the community in each nation of its prerogative over the issue of money including its modern credit substitutes.

"This prerogative has been usurped by those still termed in general, 'bankers', both national and international, who have perfected a technique to enable themselves to create the money they lend by the granting of bookkeeping credits, and to destroy it by the withdrawal of the latter at their discretion, in accordance with entirely mistaken and obsolete ideas which they do not defend against impartial and informed scientific criticism and examination. In this way a form of national money debt has been invented, in which the lender surrenders nothing at all, and which it is physically an impossibility for the community ever to repay. Any attempt to do so produces the artificial 'economic blizzard', as it did after the 1914-18 war.

"This has led to the gradual rise of a form of national, international and supranational power, dominating through its monopolization of the National social credit all the basic creative activities of mankind. Thus, in this as in other countries, it has become impossible to obtain publication in the press, or to broadcast on the radio, the truth concerning this economic enslavement which hold the peoples of the world in thrall.

Forced Levy

"Under the world's present financial system the money, except for a now trifling proportion, is originally created by the issue of a loan at interest by the 'bankers', who lend nothing themselves but in effect make a forced levy in kind on the nation by conferring on the borrower the power to purchase a corresponding amount of wealth on the market, which wealth does not belong to them, or those who borrow from them, but to the community. The proceeds of the issue of new money—whether of paper or any other form of credit money—belong to the nation in which it is, or is accepted as, legal tender, and not to the issuer. Herein lies the basic flaw of the existing monetary system.

"By this method, which has come to be regarded as legal by virtue of established practice, the banks in our country are responsible for the issue of new money of their own creation amounting today to between two and three thousand million pounds—this being the difference between loans extended, including those to themselves, and those repaid since they instituted the system a number of years ago—and are thereby extracting by way of interest an annual tribute from the nation of over 100,000,000 pounds for what has now become to them a relatively costless and riskless service. But the real danger, well understood in every preceding era of history, is the undermining of all lawfully constituted authority by the creation and destruction of money carried on in secret for private gain and the acquisition of power.

"We therefore appeal to you in your position of great authority and influence to proclaim the truth to the nation on this subject and in the hope that you may see fit to disseminate as widely as possible the text of this statement, whereby this vitally important question may be brought to the light of day and earnestly enquired into by the peoples of the British Commonwealth.

Usury

"We do so in all Christian fellowship, knowing and honoring the efforts you are making against the abuses of our present economic system and the evils of usury, and believing that the world is now in the gravest crisis of its history. The issue of new money by the money-lender is an unforeseen result of the modern cheque as a substitute for national money—a valuable invention which in itself was undoubtedly social and benevolent in intention and effect. If the cheque system were corrected, as it can be simply corrected, to restore to the nations their rightful prerogative over the issue of money, there is every reason to retain it. We fully appreciate the services which banking organizations have rendered and can continue to render to the community. But the issue and destruction of money by the money-lender is not a service, but a weapon which can be and has been used to perpetuate poverty amidst abundance, which renders individuals and nations powerless to protect themselves, and which may even be perverted to serve vast designs for the complete subjugation of the human race to tyranny, exploitation and the powers of darkness and evil."

Slavery

My printed copy of the above letter concludes with a few words by Andrew MacLaren, M.P. for Burslem who writes:

"What a pass we've come to! Poor ignorant humanity living in fear of itself. A world of people all wanting food, clothing, shelter and ordinary comforts, all possessing the physical power to produce the things they want, yet they are living in fear of want."

"Walking upon the Earth as legal trespassers; the Earth from which they could draw all that they desire."

"This Earth is no longer the storehouse of mankind as a whole; it is the Basic Security of Bankers, the oppression of the monopolist and the dice of the speculator."

"The tokens wherewith rootless humanity is compensated for failing have become at once the instruments of their slavery and the secret weapons of their international masters; the make-weights that ever throw the balance of the scales against just reward."

"Go ahead in your work of Education. God speed."

Fooled the People?

Editor, Bulletin: It is time that social creditors and monetary reformists of all kinds quit fooling the people.

The people's control of the creation and issue of cash and credit would not cure unemployment and poverty. It can be proved in fifteen minutes to any intelligent, open-minded person that there is no deficiency in the quantity of money that enters into active circulation and the total price of all goods and services that come on the market for consumption. For every dollar handed down to consumers in the price of goods and services there is a dollar received by someone either as wages, rent, interest or profit.

The trouble is in the private ownership and control of the productive resources that permits a comparatively small number of people to receive as income the bulk of the money entering into active circulation, leaving the greater number that much less and goods of equal value unsold and unconsumed. Production can be brought into balance with consumption and unemployment and poverty cured only when the people, collectively own and control their productive resources.

More people are beginning to see this and the time is coming when the present crop of monetary reformists will be relegated to the scrap heap, where they belong.

Egg Prices

Editor, Bulletin: Today farmers were in with a few dozen eggs and were surprised when told that the price of fresh eggs in Edmonton were so low. Grade A large being thirty cents per dozen.

They realized that the average price would be about twenty-four cents, and knew that it was impossible to feed hens at this time of year and receive so small amount for their produce. Many of them stated that they were unable to do so and in future were quitting the egg business.

The packing plants who offer to buy the farmers produce claim the government takes all their eggs and ship them overseas in powder form. If our government are doing so and need eggs, may I suggest that they pay enough that would assure the producer at least an average of thirty cents per dozen. If they do not, soon there will be a shortage which in turn will increase egg prices when the producer has, as anyone would under the present system, quit producing that which he must sell at a loss.

At present there is much talk about our present distributing system and monetary reform, but if a set price were placed on eggs that could be produced at a profit with the result that soon there would be a surplus, how would said surplus be taken care of?

Editor, Bulletin: I would like to compliment "The Bulletin" on its forthright editorial the other day (issue of Jan. 28th) dealing with the theme of "Ruinous Interest Rates" being paid by the city of Edmonton, i.e., from 4% to 6 per cent. interest on a net debt of more than $22,000,000. I have noted with amazement your assertion: "More than a million dollars are being paid out each year in these interest charges, which are excessive in point of fact as well as in point of comparison. The result is that pioneer citizens have had their life savings confiscated by the city, through unpayable and unjust taxes..."

My concern in the above matter has been well described by the following paragraph in the recent brief submitted to the federal cabinet by the organized farmers, with reference to "farm credit":

"That the policy of the Canadian Farm Loan Board be extended and that it be encouraged to make new loans on a less conservative basis than it has previously adopted, at the lowest possible rate of interest..." Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

On the surface, an urban reader may not sense a very direct relationship between the interest on a farm mortgage and the aforesaid interest charges on the net debt of your great capital city. A little reflection on this matter, however, will soon set an urban mind on the right "beam".

I have long felt that, with such a slim "profit margin" between farm costs and farm revenues, from six to eight per cent. on agricultural debt is too heavy a load for the average producer to "service," out of his average income, let alone get rid of. I think that the lending interests would be showing wisdom by progressively reducing this immense over-burden, more into alignment with today's rates. If, therefore, the city of Edmonton continues to pay "from 4% to 6 per cent." to that extent, my hope for 4 per cent. (as a general level for farm money) goes out the window.

Edmonton. BACHELOR.

Editor, Bulletin: Mr. Raymond, in his speech in the House of Commons, must certainly did not speak for Canadians when he begrudged those gifts to the British, which, but for them, would undoubtedly have gone to enrich Hitler and Co.

It is very evident Mr. Raymond never patrolled the Atlantic, nor accompanied those landing expeditions at Dieppe, Sicily and Italy, neither could he have been through the blitz on England, nor later with the R.C.A.F. over Germany, otherwise he might have been quite as interested in the present conflict as are the people of Britain.

So by what authority does he, with such profound ignorance of Britain and her achievements during the past few years, attempt to predict what England shall be accomplishing in the future?

Name New Official For Bible Society

At a meeting of the board of the North Alberta Auxiliary held recently in Edmonton, the Rev. J. B. M. Armour, general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada and Newfoundland, announced the appointment of the Rev. E. J. Heuer, B.A., B.D., as district secretary for North Alberta to take up his duties as from July 1, 1944. The auxiliary board concurred in this appointment.

Mr. Heuer is a well known minister of the United church, having served in its ministry at Foremost, Warner and at Trochu. His father, the Rev. G. Heuer, is a minister of the United church at Hanna. Mr. Heuer is a graduate in arts of the University of Alberta and is a bachelor of divinity of St. Stephen's College. Part of his earlier life as well as his university course was spent in Edmonton. In the opinion of competent judges, Mr. Heuer is well qualified for his new position and there is every prospect of his appointment advancing the interests of the society throughout North Alberta.

Mr. Heuer married, some years ago, Miss Mercy Murray, daughter of the late Charles Henry Murray, principal of the King Edward public school here. He has two small daughters.

The Rev. H. O. T. Burkwall, who has been acting district secretary since 1940, will continue to live in Edmonton and with the assistance of Mrs. Burkwall will render service to the society from time to time.

Sidney Burnham, noted British preacher, who has conducted many successful gospel campaigns in Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand and the U.S.A. will be the guest preacher at the Gospel Hall Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Vera Pon will speak on "China" at the morning service of the Norwood United church. The subject of the Rev. W. T. Young's sermon will be "Family Service."

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By ADJUTANT WM. F. ROSS,
The Salvation Army, Toronto, Ontario

"AND they journey—in the wilderness—toward the sunrise" (Numbers 21:11). This verse, imbedded as it is in the narrative of the wanderings of the Israelites, might easily be missed by the casual reader, and yet it presents to us a picture of a great host, finding themselves in very ungenial surroundings, yet with their faces toward the light. Surrounded by the wilderness, it is true, but with a goal in view, and with their faces turned steadfastly toward it. Is there no suggestion, no inspiration, no symbolism here to encourage us in these dark days? The journey of these people in the barren lands had been long, and there appeared to be no immediate prospect of alleviation of their lot. There was only one thing to do—march on—keep plodding, and so "they journeyed toward the sunrise."

This is the way we must travel the road of life, for whose faces the light has the brightness thereof reflected upon his countenance. There is no need for such an one to speak of his own achievements, nor to excuse the inefficiency of his present by harping on the glories of his past. When the light of the great sunrise falls fully upon your life, as far greater glory than your own is revealed.

Furthermore, he who travels toward the sunrise sees all of life's vicissitudes against a glorious background. No, the troubles of this life do not necessarily become lighter, its problems are just as acute, but one can see beyond them the breaking of a glorious day. Then, too, such a traveller is never bothered by the shadow of self. Turn your back upon the light, and immediately the shadow of self springs across your pathway. How many of us there are who can get rid of all else that hinders our spiritual development save the shadow of ourselves. Well there is only one way to see it go—journey with your face toward the sunrise, and the shadow will fall into its proper place—behind you.

There is too, the very encouraging fact that in travelling in this direction the light will increase as we progress. Of course there is much in life that we cannot understand. Many dark spots that wring from us the question "why?" but tell us, those of you who have been pressing toward the sunrise for these many years, are not life's greatest problems often solved with the passing of time as we daily press toward the brightness? and if not here, well praise God there is a place just beyond the dawning of that glorious day where "We shall know even as we are known."

Peradventure you, my reader, are one of God's children travelling in the wilderness, no growth, no apparent sustenance, no clearly marked path, surrounded by continually shifting sands. Well brace up, keep your shoulders squared and your face toward the light. Trust in God, do your duty, and thine eyes too shall see the sunrise, but more than that, "Thou shalt behold the King in His beauty, and thou shalt view the land" which is, after all, not so very far off. May God bless you.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Adj. Wm. Ross will be speaking at all services at the Salvation Army Citadel, 102nd street, Sunday, February 20. What is the use of the Man of Sorrows
If you do not turn to Him in your need?
When your home is shadowed

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

McCoy Health Service

The problem of getting the most food for your money is in many families an important problem, especially since in the average family the food bill is the largest single bill which must be met.

The housewife who can cut down on the food bill and still provide adequate nourishment for all the family certainly deserves the highest praise. The husband who works all day in an effort to provide for the needs of the household has his problem, but the wife can also be of great help to the entire family if she takes up the study of diet in a serious way.

When she finds out how to feed the family as inexpensively as possible she has learned but half of the lesson—it is only when she feeds them well at the same time, that she has learned the whole lesson.

When the family income is low it becomes especially important to make sure that the foods purchased are nutritious as well as inexpensive. In order that all the needs of nutrition may be met, the food buyer must understand what makes a well-balanced dietary and must provide the necessary protein, foods minerals, vitamins, and so on. Also, special thought may be required in determining how much is to be spent on milk, butter or its substitutes, eggs, and how much on starches, which are generally inexpensive.

When the housewife gets down to fundamentals she finds that the diet depends upon what foods are generally selected. When she goes to the market, she does not attempt to take home a portion of all the food displayed, but makes a selection. If she chooses at random, she may spend a great deal more money than is necessary and still not have all the foods needed for good health; whereas if she chooses foods carefully, not only for cost but also for nourishing qualities, she may spend less money and at the same time, ensure that her family will be better fed.

When you try to boil down the problem of feeding the family inexpensively, you will find it rests upon this basis of right food selection. By understanding what group of foods supply certain elements, then it is possible to choose among all of the foods in that group in order to take the one which fits your particular food budget.

The person who buys the food is

School Classes On Agriculture Asked in House

Some provision should be made in the school curriculum of Alberta to teach the basic principles of agriculture, D. J. McKinnon, Independent, M.L.A. for Gleichen, said in the legislature Friday.

In the same way as in the case of shop work and manual training, instruction should be given in agricultural education, the member stated.

SUGGESTS SERVICE
He commended the government on extension of the district agricultural service, and household economic services, and suggested that a statistical service be made available to farmers, telling them of available markets, and the time and place to dispose of produce. "I hope this service will be available in the post-war period," said Mr. McKinnon.

In discussion of the farm debt situation, the member recalled that in 1935 and 1936, many farmers were in a position to pay something on their debts, but this had been discouraged by the government.

Now, conditions had improved, and land values were higher, but farmers were finding they could not get the same settlement terms that were available to them in the 1935-36 period. Mr. McKinnon stated, however, that some farmers today are paying their debts in full.

MARKETS REQUIRED
He told the House of the need of export markets to give an outlet to agricultural surpluses of this country, and made reference to the conference in the United States last year, where 44 nations' representatives met to discuss food problems. This conference had not arrived at definite solutions, but had gone a long way toward them, said the member.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

THE U.S. Engineers' loss to the Yanks on Friday is of course the biggest basketball upset of the season and it would be a decidedly tough break for the league leaders, if after coming through the regular schedule without a reverse, they should fail to make the title merely by dropping a single game.

But such things can happen in single round-robin series. And so now unless Quartermasters or U.S. Station Hospital stop the Yanks even though the Engineers do knock over both Hospital and Quartermasters, it will be curtains for the top quintet on the year's showing.

Playoffs in the Inter-Service League are also under way as a result of their 28-27 decision over No. 3 "M" Depot last night. Air Corps cagers are sitting in the golden seat waiting for the survivor of the 402 Service Squadron versus 4 I.T.S. affair.

Friday was the 14th consecutive win for the Air Corps team coached by Lt. Andrew Konopka. Inter-Service League is settling the championship problem with best-of-three semi-final and final series.

HERE AND THERE... CITY Junior League will be the first of the local hockey circuits to commence annual playoffs, the opening game of the best-of-five session between Canadians and Navy being slated for Monday night.

Director of the junior loop, W. G. (Bill) Harris is still confined to his home through illness. Art Potter, the "Mr. Big" in both juvenile and midget activities in Edmonton, will have both of his groups launched on the title trail one of these days, too.

Fit. Lt. Bill LaRocque, hockey's No. 1 booster out at "M" Depot, says the station team is hopeful of entering the Command playoffs. With Neil Colville, Jimmy Simpson and several other ace-puck-chasers on the roster, "M" Depot should be able to ice a really nifty squad.

Yes, the McCance whose name has been appearing in recent "M" Depot service league cage fixtures is, of course, none other than the "Ches" of Winnipeg Bomber fame. One of Canada's all-time football greats, Ches has been busy for several weeks now intent on ultimately booting a few field goals for the R.C.A.F. in the war game. It's a good bet, too, that he'll do just exactly that.

"M" Depot Eliminated.

U.S. Air Corps Cagers Enter Service Loop Final

U.S. Army Air Corps cagers entered the final round in the playoff for the Inter-Service Basketball League title when they eked out a 28-27 decision over No. 3 "M" Depot at the Arena on Friday night. They had taken the first of the best-of-three series last Tuesday by a 37-25 count.

Air Corps will now meet the winner of the 402 Service Squadron versus No. 4 I.T.S. semi-final, the second game of which is Monday night. Service Squadron took the opener 34-23.

Cliff Bricker of "M" Depot with a total of 17 points was high scorer last night, while Lowell Cornwall and Bill Loy of Air Corps, evenly split 14 points for the runner-up position.

Air Corps boys moved into the lead in the first quarter when they held an 11-7 edge and they were in front 17-13 at the half-way mark. Holding a narrow 22-20 margin at the end of the third session, Air Corps counted six points in the final chapter while holding their opponents to seven.

LINEUPS

"M" Depot—Cliff Bricker (17), Douglas Copley, Tom Littlefield (4), Bill Wood (2), Sid Spanier, Al Holmes (2), Tom Ptolomy, Ches McCance (2), Ralph Fraser.

Air Corps—Tex Wheeler (4), Low Cornwall (7), Fred Dumas, John Pailivis (5), Rudy Bondy (1), Forrest Hunter, Edward Meyer (4), Bill Loy (7).

English Derby

Set for June 17

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(CP)—The Derby will be run at Newmarket June 17, it was announced Thursday. The Oaks will be run on the preceding day on the same track.

All this year's famous open races will be run at Newmarket, including the one thousand guineas on May 16, the two thousand guineas on May 17 and the Coronation cup on June 6.

The jockey club sought to have the Derby run at Ascot where it argued the course would provide a more severe test, but the government did not approve the proposal because Ascot's accessibility to London would lead to too great a crowd gathering for the race.

In peacetime the Derby was run at Epsom Downs, near London.

When threatened with danger, ground nesting birds run rather than fly.

Red Deer 'Spiel

Starts Tuesday

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin RED DEER, Feb. 19.—Curriers from all parts of central Alberta will meet here next Tuesday for the opening of the Red Deer curling club's 34th annual bonspiel, billed for three days. Entries close on Monday, Feb. 21 at 8 p.m. and the first draw will be at nine o'clock Tuesday morning.

There are four competitions, the Grand Challenge, Birks, Eatons and the Hotelkeepers, and a good array of prizes. Icebreaker Norman Macdonald will have seven sheets of ice ready, all under one roof.

Club president, Frank Stewart, secretary Jack Knight and other officials will be on hand to welcome visitors to the bonspiel.

Committees in charge of bonspiel arrangements include: Ice, Art Lundie and Fred Smith; entertainment, Frank Stewart and Doug Gray; banquet, Ed Wiggins and Doug Gray; prizes, Jim McRobbie, E. A. Bowering and the president of the club.

Among rinks entered so far are two from Calgary, and one from Vulcan. Jack Taylor is the bonspiel secretary and entries should be sent to him.

Junior Playoffs

Start on Monday

Opening game of the best-of-five series between Canadian Athletic Club and H.M.C.S. Non-such for the city junior hockey title is scheduled for 119 street rink on Monday night and will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

Hoop League Leaders Drop First in Round-Robin; Aircrafters Down "Y" 31-28

Yanks in Upset Defeat Engineers 35-29

Hit Top Form To Knock Over Favored Club

By DON KILLIPS

HITTING their top form, U.S. Army Yanks scored the biggest upset in the Edmonton Men's Basketball League at Westglen Friday night when they displayed better checking and more power on the offensive to knock over the previously unbeaten U.S. Engineers 35-29 in the first game for these two teams in the "A" section round-robin playoffs. Aircraft Repair handed Y.M.C.A. their second defeat in "B" division series by taking the curtain raiser 31-28.

The initial setback for the Engineers puts them in a position where they are compelled to take their remaining two games to stay in the running for the title they were strong favorites to win. Yanks or Quartermasters can win by taking their other two contests.

Next Tuesday the winners of last night's "A" section game and the Quartermasters meet in the opener of the doubleheader and Engineers tangle with Hospital in the after-piece.

NOT AT FULL STRENGTH

The Engineers were not at full strength. Bob Channess and "Windy" Smith being on furlough, but the absent players probably couldn't have supplied enough checked punch to stop the Yanks.

Checks were so close that as a result no fewer than 26 fouls were called and John Gullekson, who was top scorer with 14 points, and Earl Ayers of Engineers and Joe Long and John Vandenberg of Yanks were forced out of the game with four called against each of them.

The game opened fast, although very little scoring was done in the initial quarter. Harley Miller gave the Engineers a 1-0 lead on a free shot and then Blawie and Wayne Adams scored field goals for the Yanks but put the latter ahead 4-1. They were never headed after that although they were tied twice. Mike Roma cut the lead for the losers to one soon after Adams' basket, but Miller came back to make the score board read 5-3 at the end of the first canto, dropping in a free throw for the Yanks.

SECOND FRAME FAST

There was more action and scoring in the second stanza and the winners went on to build up a 15-11 lead just before Gullekson sank two quick field goals which ended the first half. Adams and Long came through with three counters each and Blawie and Miller two apiece in the second session while Gullekson marked up every point counted by the losers in that frame.

With the score 15-13 going into the third chapter, Gullekson dropped in another basket to make it 15-15 about 10 seconds after the third quarter opened, but Long put the winners ahead again on a free shot and then Adams and Long each scored and Miller dropped in two nice long shots to make it 25-15 midway in the session.

Scoring continued fast in the third and rapped in 10 more counters while they held the winners to three, but the latter managed to hold off a bitter attack long enough to win out.

Y.M.C.A. IS OUSTED FROM "B" PLAYOFFS

Aircraft Repair just managed to take their opening game in "B" section playoffs of the Edmonton Men's Basketball League last night with two baskets by Vic Driver in the dying moments that supplied a 31-28 margin of victory over Y.M.C.A. who were eliminated from the round-robin with two straight setbacks. Last night's game set the stage for the final clash of the series between the Aircrafters and Bechtel, Price, Callahan.

Harold McCready led the winners with 10 points while Doug Leitch paced the strong Y. team with eight in the fastest "B" division game of the season.

With Leitch, Eugene Trademan, Norm Bradshaw and Grant DeFrain each scoring a field goal and Bryan Dunsforth counting on a free shot, the Y. club earned a 9-3 lead in the first quarter and then managed to add six to the winners seven in the second to hold a 15-10 margin at the half.

The winners finally tied it up when the score board read 17-17 midway in the third on a free shot by Ralph Hollingsworth and then went ahead on a field goal by Ken Shaw who took a pass from Hollingsworth. Y.M.C.A. went out in front once more during this session, but were on the short end of a three-quarter time score of 25-23.

The losers tied it up once in the last, but the winners managed to boards Friday night when 14 more Alberta indoor speed skating championships were run off at the 119 Street rink. The new provincial mark was set by Stanley Sawchuk of Canmore when he knocked two-fifths of a second off the former low clocking of 43 seconds in the intermediate men's 440 yards race.

ONE record went by the

The senior men's two-mile grind, won by Geoffrey Lovette of Rosedale, was one of last night's features. Lovette beat out Albert Hardy and Bill Kasting, both of Rosedale, by going the distance in six minutes, 54 3/5 seconds.

Time in the senior men's 880 was also very good. Albert Hardy, who came first only being 4/5 of a second off the record. The intermediate men's mile event, also one of the highlights, went to Dick Rock of Westmount when he skated across the finish line first ahead of Stanley Sawchuk and Donald Moore of Rosedale who were second and third respectively.

Phyllis Boyko of Canmore picked up her share of the honors last night when she won both the junior girls' 880 and 220 and came second in the 440 of the same class. Blanche Tivoliade of Westmount also captured two events, beating out Joan Cragg in the senior women's 440 and then taking the 880 by going the distance.

Babs Kasting of Rosedale took the intermediate women's 440 and 880 yard races by simply skating the distance in both events. Bill Kortes, Rosedale also won two competitions last night when he came first in the junior men's 880 and 440.

Ten gold and the same number of sterling silver medals are being awarded in addition to 10 war savings certificates that are replacing the bronze medals which cannot be obtained.

Following are Friday night's results:

Junior girls, 220—1, Phyllis Bobko (Canmore); 2, Joyce Mainwaring (Westmount); 3, Peggy Craven (Rosedale). Time, 25 sec.

Stadium Flyers

Beat South Side

Bantams 7-2

The Stadium Flyers chalked up their eighth straight victory in the Canadian Athletic Club Bantam Hockey League when they trounced the South Siders 7-2 in a contest played last night on the winner's home pond.

Eddie Wiederspiel gave the Stadium Flyers an early first period lead when he batted home Stan Cudmore's pass. The lead was shortlived however and George Soderberg squared matters on a play with Jack Polson. The Stadium kids jumped ahead once again in the dying minutes of this frame with Donald Haley converting a double relay from Peter Carp and Jack Grace.

Terry Melnychuk assisted by Cudmore put the winners two up in the middle session.

The Flyers netted four in the last canto while holding their opponents to a lone marker. Carp unassisted—Carp from Haley and Grace—Wiederspiel from Melnychuk and Orest Diakiv from Elmer Erwin being the order of the winner's goals. Soderberg and Frank Nider teamed up for the South Sider's tally.

The work of Rayburn Glenn in the loser's net was a feature of the contest.

Lineups:
Stadium Flyers: Randolph, Barabash, Lawrence, Ferguson, Erwin, Flach, Haley, Carp, Wiederspiel, Melnychuk, Cudmore, Behms, Diakiv, Pasconis, Grace.
South Side: Glenn, Morie, Woolven, Olsen, Soderberg, Gregg, Bakay, Nider, Bonnyman, Barker.

Montrealer Takes Feature

Edmonton Fighter Defeated
In Overseas Boxing Tourney

EPSOM, England, Feb. 19.—(CP Cable)—Gnr. Doug Marsh of Montreal Friday night won the Canadian army (United Kingdom) middleweight boxing title, gaining the decision over Tpr. Frank Egan of Windsor, Ont., in a bout which thrilled the audience in the municipal swimming pool building here.

Defending champion, Cpl. Rod MacDonald of Edmonton, was defeated by Marsh in the middleweight quarter-finals.

None in the crowd of 200, mostly Canadian servicemen, knew that the Windsor southpaw was fighting with a fractured bone, broken in the semi-final, in his left hand. Marsh, formerly attached to the Montreal Star sports staff, also was unaware of it in the bitter, bashing battle.

Other champions crowned were: Heavyweight, Tpr. Joe Main, Calgary; light heavyweight, Sgt. Jack Ennis, Windsor, Ont.; welterweight, Rfmr. Tom Settee, Prince Albert, Sask.; lightweight, Pte. Russ McCarthy, Hamilton, Ont.; featherweight, Spr. A. F. Butler, Kingsville, Ont.; bantamweight, Gnr. Jack Billings, St. Marys, Ont.

On the Frozen Fronts of Russia

or the Supply Lines of Canada

FORD V-8 ENGINE

—it's a great power plant!

AS BITTER COLD and driving snow descend on the Russian front, Russian attacks are intensified. For Russian troops are at home in winter warfare, and Russian motorized equipment is built to operate in intense cold.

Pushing forward with troops and supplies as part of the Russian offensive are Canadian-built, four-wheel drive trucks. Ford engineers devised ways to "arcticize" these trucks with heaters and other devices to make them operate efficiently at 40 below zero and lower. In the extreme winter of Northern Manitoba, these trucks were put through exhaustive tests to make sure that they would start quickly and operate efficiently under the severe Russian weather conditions.

The power plant in these and all other Canadian-built Ford army vehicles in service today in the far parts of the world, is the Ford V-8 engine. Developed by Ford engineers in pre-war days, it set a new standard of performance in the cars, trucks, and buses of a nation at peace. Always it has been noted for the smoothness and surging power which only a V-type, eight-cylinder engine can give.

Today it is proving its efficiency and economy on the bitter testing grounds of war, and is helping to keep transportation and essential supplies moving on the home front. In peace and in war the Ford V-8 engine has stood the test. On the frozen fronts of Russia or the highways of Canada, it's a great power plant.

Air Power

Cost of Weapons

By Maj. A. P. de Seversky

The cost of weapons is a matter of minor importance in time of war, when the stakes are so high that ordinary economic considerations must be disregarded. Yet no nation can afford to ignore costs altogether. Every dollar represents a certain amount of raw materials, labor power and productive capacity, and none of these things are inexhaustible.

A nation may squander cash, depending on posterity to absorb the debts. But it cannot afford to squander the energy and the raw stuffs that are represented by this cash. Not even the richest country in the world, namely, the United States, can possibly build unlimited quantities of all conceivable weapons indiscriminately. Dollars which are to say the industrial potential represented—that are channeled in one direction become unavailable for other purposes.

From this angle it becomes interesting and useful to estimate the cash investment represented by the immense force we used to take the Marshall Islands. Airmen naturally go a step further and estimate also what an investment of this size would add up to if it had been diverted to air power.

In the attack on the Marshalls, we are told, we brought to bear about two million displacement tons of shipping of all types. The cost of such vessels varies from $1,500 to $4,000 a ton. The lowest figure holds good for some auxiliary vessels, landing boats and patrol craft. The top figure represents the investment in a carrier such as the John Hancock—a 25,000-ton ship that cost some 96 million dollars.

OPTIMISTIC ESTIMATE
In assuming an average of $2,500 per ton we are therefore using a rather optimistic estimate. It means that the naval equipment we had to concentrate on the Marshalls amounted to five billion dollars worth of materials and manpower. To this we should add another billion dollars represented by equipment of the army and air forces which co-operated in the process of softening up the Marshalls for the kill, and in the occupation. The whole effort, in other words, can be regarded as the application of force to the tune of six billion dollars.

What does such an investment look like when translated into air power?
Had an equivalent effort been put into Flying Fortresses it would have given about 24,000 of these bombers. Carrying three tons each, they could drop nearly 75,000 tons of explosives on the enemy's head. But it should be recalled that the B-29, a bomber twice the size of the Fortress, is already announced as in production—and that bombers twice as big as the B-29 have long been entirely possible and feasible.
Planes of the last-named kind, weighing close to 300 tons and able to carry the offensive directly from Alaska to the heart of Japan itself, would cost roughly a million dollars a piece. The force thrown against the Marshalls therefore represents the equivalent of some 6,000 such heavy long-range superbombers.

In an attack from Alaska against Japan, a distance of 3,000 miles, with enough fuel for the return journey, these superbombers could each carry about 25 tons of bombs. The whole armada of 6,000 consequently could deliver 150,000 tons of destruction in a single raid, and that is more tonnage than the Royal Air Force has been able to drop on Germany and all its occupied territories, except Russia, in the entire year of 1943, and three times the total quantity dropped over the same area by the American air forces in the same period. The R.A.F. total, it has been disclosed, was 34,000 tons; the American total, about 50,000 tons.

REAL MAGNITUDE
Even that does not quite indicate the real magnitude of the air power wallop involved in these calculations. The area of Japan proper is only one-tenth of the area of Hitler-held Europe outside of Russia, so that only one-tenth as much bombing force would be needed to saturate it. When measured in terms of its destructive effect as compared with the strategic bombing of Europe, the armada is thus the equivalent of 1,500,000 tons of bombs in a single attack.

These, of course, are astronomical figures. Japan could be blasted out of the war with much smaller force in concentrated and continuous direct bombing. I have carried the logic of the arithmetic to an extreme merely to underline the point, which is that productive potentials directed to surface operations could give us vastly greater results for every dollar, every man-hour and every carload of natural resources if they were diverted to the most modern air power possible at the present stage of aeronautical progress.

I know that this will sound fantastic to traditional military minds. But it is a fact that the six billion dollars of American labor and materials used to overcome a few small atolls in the open spaces of the Pacific would have been sufficient to deliver a knockout blow against Japan proper, had the same potential been directed into the most modern firearms, which is air power.

Royal Alexandra Operating Costs Reveal Increase

Operating cost of the Royal Alexandra hospital has risen sharply during the past few years it was revealed in a financial statement presented to the members of the hospital board at a meeting Friday night.

During January cost of operation of the hospital was $53,917 and the total earnings, $41,119. The statement for the month showed that even after taking advantage of earned government grant and sundry small earnings, the hospital was still operated at a net loss of $7,000. This deficit is more than doubled when proper provision for uncollectable debts is made.

BUDGET FOR DEFICIT
On the other hand, with collections of old accounts continuing at a high level, an actual cash surplus for the month is shown as $3,143. This cash surplus is $2,840 more than in January 1943 while the book-keeping deficit is really $12,000 greater than that of last year. The hospital is now budgeting for a deficit of $140,000.

The statistical report presented by Dr. A. F. Anderson, superintendent of the hospital, showed a total of 922 patients were admitted to the Royal Alexandra during January. Total number of patients days was 11,735. There were 108 births, 60 of which were males and 48 females, including one set of twins.

A total of 455 operations were performed, 169 major and 286 minor. Over 900 X-rays were taken. A total of 30 deaths were reported from all departments.

The report of the school of nursing and nursing service disclosed that the committee decided to offer two scholarships of $375, one to be awarded to a graduate of the school of at least one year, the other to be a member of the class of 1944. Application for the scholarships is to be made not later than April 1, 1944.

RADIOLOGIST NEEDED

Dr. Anderson advised the board that the late Dr. A. D. Irvine had been very capably acting as radiologist of the Royal Alexandra during the absence on active service of Dr. Pat Malcolmson.

Dr. Irvine's sudden and untimely death has left a volume of work which Dr. Marshall Mallett, the late Dr. Irvine's partner, has advised that he is not able to handle, and the hospital is faced with the immediate necessity of securing the services of a qualified radiologist.

Dr. Anderson reported that all steps were being taken to try to have Dr. Pat Malcolmson released from the armed forces to resume his work at the hospital in view of the fact that no other qualified radiologist appeared to be available.

Major And Minor Notes

By John Oliver

CONTINUING an activity that gives promise of being of inestimable value to musical performers seeking experience before the public, the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Associations, in collaboration with the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Music Teachers' Association, will present the second recital in the Young Artist Series at the Public Library, Macdonald Drive, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The young artists will be Thelma Johannes, pianist, of Saskatoon, and Cathryn Zender, soprano, of this city.

JOHN OLIVER

This series has been arranged in order to give artists of the younger school, who have little opportunity of appearing before audiences other than those of their own community, to gain concert experience and poise before the public. The movement is nation-wide, and is divided into zones.

Miss Johannes obtained her associate and licentiate degrees with distinction, and at Saskatchewan music festivals she won several "firsts" in the higher piano classes. Miss Zender is one of this city's outstanding singers and has appeared with success in productions of the Edmonton Civic Opera Society, and as a concert soloist. Admission will be by programs, which are available at Heinemann and Company's store. Men and women of the armed services are specially invited.

Miss Johannes will play the following: Variations in F, opus 34, Beethoven; Perpetual Motion, Weber; Sonata in F Sharp Minor, Schubert; Olaf's Dance, Pick-Mangia; Homage to Rameau, Debussy; Five Bagatelles, Tchaikovsky; Elan and May, John Ireland. Miss Zender will sing the following: As When the Dove Laments His Love from the opera Aida and Galatea, Handel; O Don Fatal, from Don Carlos, Verdi; Secrecy, Wolfe; Time You Old Gipsy Man, Besly; Do Not Go My Love, Hageman; China Fig, Leon, G. A. Kavan will be at the piano for Miss Zender.

The St. David's Welsh Male Voice Choir under W. J. Jones, will give a special song service in the new recreation hut at the Jesuit College base, U.S. Engineers, on Sunday at 11:15 a.m. A choir of 25 voices, including soloists, with Ted Linkskog, violinist, as guest artist will be in attendance, and it is expected that all U.S.E.D. personnel, military and civilian, will turn out and welcome the choir. Chaplain Blaisdell of the Alaska Wing, Air Transport Command will speak for a few minutes.

From New York, Fred M. Gee has advised Mrs. Meaden that he is immersed in his negotiations for next season's artists. He is busy attending concerts and performances, and interviewing managers and the talented singers and players under their protective direction. While final arrangements have not been completed, Mr. Gee has sent back the encouraging and comforting message, "Don't worry, I'll have as good a series as we had this year." And that should be good enough.

Mona Paulie, Edmonton-born mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Association, who opened this season's Celebrity Series, is heavily engaged in her season's activities in and around New York. She has appeared in La Traviata, The Marriage of Figaro, The Valkyries, and several other operas. Her judging by reports she has entrenched herself more firmly than ever in the good graces of Gotham audiences. In addition to her appearances at the big opera house, she has been soloist on at least one of the United States Fourth War Loan programs, and has been doing much other concert work.

Artur Rubinstein, mighty Polish pianist, whose dazzling performance at McDougall auditorium on Friday of last week continues as the major topic of conversation in musical circles, is not only one of the outstanding contemporary masters of the keyboard, but he believes in saying what he thinks and saying it in plain, understandable and forceful language. In an interview here he made no effort to conceal the fact that he considers the Germans barbarians, and that their defeat is the first major activity toward winning the war.

In Calgary he unburdened himself of his opinions about boogie woogie musicians, and no doubt left many jitterbugs almost speechless when, naming several of their idols, he declared that musically he did not recognize their existence.

Before he left here he had some trenchant observations to make regarding autograph hunters. Those who attended his concert appreciated the physical and mental effort put into his performance by Mr. Rubinstein. It was a two-hour session calling for the expenditure of a tremendous amount of physical and nervous energy. At the end of that time he was tired, and wanted to relax both mentally and physically. But more than 100 enthusiastic autograph hunters made their way by various ways and means into the room he used for hanging his hat and coat while at McDougall auditorium. Incidentally, the obliging and courteous artist signed all the programs and other documents submitted to him.

Brothers Given 6-Month Terms

Two brothers, terming themselves conscientious objectors, were sentenced to six months with hard labor, plus fines of $50, or in default of payment, an additional three months, when they appeared before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.O., in police court Friday. At the conclusion of the sentence both are to be handed over to civilian service camp officers.

They were Arnold Roy Ball, 25 years old, and Harry L. Ball, 22, both of Edmonton.

Both had claimed exemption as conscientious objectors. W. Stanley Ross, special prosecutor, told the court, and both had given authorities much trouble by refusing to do civilian work at a camp.

One accused acknowledged serving three months for breach of the National War Service regulations.

Eisenhower Given Soviet Decoration

LONDON, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Russia has awarded Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the Allied invasion forces, the Order of Suvorov, first class, the Moscow radio said last night. "Sympathy" Strike Is Staged by Miners STELLARTON, N.S., Feb. 19.—(CP)—Four hundred men went on strike at the Acadia Coal Company's Albion mine yesterday in sympathy with two men transferred from their regular jobs. The two miners, employed as shift men, were ordered by the company to report to the coal face and work under contract rates. When they refused, the rest of the working force left with them.

First Stop Malta

Today Canadians in uniform are fighting in almost every climate under the sun—from Labrador to Ceylon. But wherever they go they find their favourite Sweet Caps help them to relax and enjoy their moments of leisure. Sweet Caps have what it takes to make them first over here, first over there, first with Canadians everywhere!

Miraculously escaping harm while the city about her was reduced to ruins, the "Little Queen" still sits, silent and proud, among the valiant people who defended Malta through a year of almost constant bombing.

Alberta Health Services Are Reviewed In Legislature

Woman Is Fined For Neglecting To Report Funds

Mrs. M. A. Kuhn, Edmonton, charged under the foreign exchange regulations before Magistrate A. J. Millar, K.C., Friday afternoon, pleaded guilty to failure to report $3,975.74, more or less, in United States currency, as acquired by herself, and was fined $100 or two months imprisonment. The charge was laid by R.C.M.P. William Rea, K.C., represented the crown.

The accused, said Det.-Sgt. Sidney J. Coggles, R.C.M.P. investigator, secured a form from an Edmonton bank, which was to be filled out and returned to that institution, as the first step in going to United States in connection with a deceased brother's estate, of which she had been named an heir, in August 1943.

The form she had acquired was not returned to the bank and she was told by her husband "not to bother" about the place.

7 Army Officers Pass Examinations

Seven officers of the Canadian Army attached to training centres and schools in Alberta were successful in qualifying at recent courses they attended, headquarters of Military District No. 13 at Calgary announced Saturday.

Capt. T. C. Gibbs, attached to a special warfare school in the province, and Lt. S. Mysak of A20 Canadian Army Service Corps Training Centre at Red Deer qualified at a course for General Staff Officers III. Capt. Gibbs received a "distinguished" mark, the highest obtainable.

Five officers from two central Alberta training centres qualified at a special course in Camouflage held at Vancouver.

They were Maj. D. A. Petrie and Lt. S. Mysak of No. 131 Basic Training Centre at Camrose and Lts. D. Adlem and W. E. Nicholas and 2-Lt. J. E. Hilliker of A20 C.A.S.T.C. at Red Deer.

Weather permitting the Observatory of the University of Alberta will be open to the public Saturday at 8 p.m., to view Saturn.

New Command

Brig.-Gen. James A. O'Connor, commanding general of the Northwest Service Command U.S. Army for the last 18 months, who has been appointed commanding general of a unit replacement centre at Fort Devens, Massachusetts. General O'Connor was in charge of construction of the Alaska Military Highway. His headquarters were at Whitehorse. Brig.-Gen. L. D. Worham has succeeded Brig.-Gen. O'Connor as commanding general of the Northwest Service Command.

Bill Is Planned For Amendments To Election Act

The Alberta Election Act is to be amended at this session of the Legislature, Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, indicated in the House Thursday, when he said the government proposed to bring in amending legislation this year.

Mr. Maynard's announcement was made at the commencement of Friday's sitting of the Legislature, when Elmer E. Roper, C.C.F. M.L.A. for Edmonton, asked leave to introduce a bill amending the Election Act. The attorney-general rose and told the House that the government intended to bring in an amending bill for the same Act, and suggested that the C.C.F. member hold his bill back, and if not satisfied with the government amendments, that he place his amendments before the House while the bill is in committee stage.

Mr. Roper agreed to this plan of action.

When questioned outside of the House, Mr. Maynard stated he was not prepared to say what changes were to be proposed in the government bill, until it was brought into the House.

Mr. Roper said after the House rose that his amendment was to provide that in any provisions for soldiers' voting, that they should be enabled to do so, whether or not the soldier has attained the age of 21 years.

"If the government does not provide for this, I will introduce bills to amend the Election Act and the Soldiers' Relief Act," Mr. Roper stated.

$50 Dividend Monthly Urged For Veterans

A monthly dividend of $50 for life for returned men, with proper additions for dependents, was advocated in the Legislature Friday by L.A.C. Gordon E. Taylor, Social Credit M.L.A. for Drumheller, when he addressed the house in the Throne Speech debate. The member said that veterans returning from the present war are being badly treated.

He added that such a declaration of their fighting men now, and such treatment of our fighting men now, would constitute a definite advancement towards winning the war on the home front.

He added that such a declaration of their fighting men now, and such treatment of our fighting men now, would constitute a definite advancement towards winning the war on the home front.

PROTESTS MADE

At the outset of his address, the member declared that people of his constituency had passed resolutions at public meetings which protested against the government's action in appointing Dr. Victor W. Wright and A. Farinello to the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board.

"Dr. Wright was named compensation board chairman, and Mr. Farinello was appointed to the board, by the government last July. Third board member is Carl C. Cook, of Calgary."

After four years of war, the basis has been laid for an Allied victory on the military front, but, Mr. Taylor continued, "We have not taken one citizen and are actually losing the war on the home front."

"I quote the following reasons to show we are actually losing the war on the home front:

- "1. The Depression Force is waiting to overwhelm us.
- "2. Monopolistic forces are still running Canada.
- "3. The Labor citadel is being attacked.
- "4. Returned soldiers are being badly treated.
- "5. Primary producers are in the same position as before the war."

"When the men who fought at Dieppe and in the Italian campaign come home, and wander hither and thither for days and weeks looking for work, not sympathizing, it surely must become apparent that unless we scrap all our machinery and create jobs, there will never again be work for everyone," said the Drumheller M.L.A.

He went on to say that many industries have promised the same jobs to two, three, four, and sometimes five men for every one returning from the front, and that thousands of men now in the armed forces never had a job before they enlisted. Hundreds of girls in the forces and in industry will refuse to go back to domestic work at $15 a month, the House was told.

Mr. Taylor continued: "I am going to make bold to suggest that our Social Credit dividend is the solution to the problem. If we were that all bona-fide citizens should have the dividend, surely you can not deny it to the men who lived through hell and horror of the battlefield."

The member concluded: "I call upon the people of Canada to advance upon the citadels of the monopolists, take the control of money into their own hands to be regulated in terms of public need, through the elected representatives, and to play fair with their returned men, to support no dictatorial or centralized policies, to cast out disease and poverty forever from our land."

Free Hospitalization Plan Will Include All People Minister Says in Report

Free maternity hospitalization legislation, as to be proposed by the provincial government, will benefit everyone in the province because that will be the less costly way to administer the regulations, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health, stated in the Legislature Friday afternoon.

The minister, speaking in the debate on the Speech from the Throne, was replying to objections voiced by Dr. P. M. Campbell, Independent M.L.A. for Lethbridge, who said Thursday the maternity legislation should not be universal in application.

Dr. Campbell had suggested said Dr. Cross that the free maternity benefits should be restricted to those who could not pay for it themselves.

WOULD BOOST COSTS

"The answer to that is that it would cost more to administer than the extra it will take to provide for those who can pay their own expenses," said the minister. "We would have to have investigators in every city, town and municipality in the province, to get the financial standing of every patient."

(Maternity legislation, as announced in the Speech from the Throne, will provide free hospitalization for all bona-fide residents of the province.)

Dr. Cross announced that the province is prepared to pay a grant of 30 cents a day per inmate to any municipality which will provide a suitable home for its old people.

CAREFULLY CONSIDERED

"This matter has been carefully considered by the government, and we came to the conclusion that the best treatment and care that could be provided for our old folks, would be for each municipality to provide homes for them, so they would be close to their friends, and their friends could come to visit them and take them out for a day or two each month."

Realtors Appoint Parley Delegates

The Edmonton Real Estate Association held a well attended and enthusiastic general meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday evening with Stuart Darroch, president, in the chair. Andrew A. Whyte reported that a delegation of S. P. Lawrie, H. Gilbert and Stuart Darroch had interviewed Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary at the Legislative Buildings, and fully discussed the four amendments to the Real Estate Board Licensing Act, which the association has proposed to improve and strengthen. The delegation was favorably received.

J. A. Sherwin, secretary reported receipt of a request from the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards with regard to sending delegates to the convention in Toronto early in April.

Boyce Green and E. H. Pointer, spoke on the good work the association has done since its organization last April, watching the new rental and wartime regulations. Good results had been obtained and were helping every realtor across Canada and should be widely supported. A vote was taken and it was decided to send Mr. Whyte, who is western director of the national association, and Stuart Darroch, president of the Edmonton association, as the delegates to the Toronto convention. A canvass will be made among the accredited members for donations to defray expenses.

Other subjects discussed included post-war land settlement, rental control, and post-war taxation.

Labor Official Lauds New Code

Carl E. Berg, vice-president of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and Secy. Alberta Federation of Labor in a statement today welcomed the Dominion government's labor code as a "step in the right direction."

Mr. Berg credited the Congress, condemnation of P.C. 5384 with being responsible for the new legislation and said "hed we swallowed it without protest, this new labor code would have appeared in a much different shape than now is the case."

"While it is not expected," Mr. Berg added, "that the new code will prove perfect in view of the difficult problems involved, it lays down principles and a foundation on which we can agree and improve as conditions warrant."

Two Women Injured Result of Explosion

Burned about the face when what they believed to be a can of coal oil exploded, Mrs. J. Terlaski, 29 years old, 15910 102 avenue, and Mrs. Ralph Abraham, 29, of Sub P.O. 23, were taken to the General hospital at 5 p.m. Friday. Only the first-named was injured sufficiently to remain at the hospital.

The two women stated that when they saw a burning trailer as they walked along a street they tried to put out the fire by throwing snow on it.

The explosion then occurred.

To make it more difficult, West again opens the ten of hearts. Declarer goes up with the king from dummy and East signals with the nine. West leads a four diamonds has warned the declarer that he must expect freak distribution. It looks fairly safe, however, to lead the eight of diamonds, win with the ace and return the queen of diamonds. A careless declarer now might ruff with the four of spades and have it over-ruffed, but South should ruff with dummy's nine-spot. Now what should East discard? If he discards a club, he sets up the whole club suit. If he discards a heart, the declarer will cash the ace of hearts, ruff a heart, and his jack becomes good.

Suppose that when dummy ruffs the diamond with the nine of spades, East makes the fine play of under-ruffing with the deuce. South should reason that East is trying to protect four hearts to the queen and four clubs, which would leave him four spades and a diamond. South should cash the queen of spades to pick up West's trump, then the ace, king and queen of clubs; go over to this hand by leading dummy's last spade, and cash his last three trumps, discarding the nine and five of clubs and three of hearts from dummy.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Youths the Same After Marriage as Before

Drinking Man Will Still Imbibe, Hungry Wife Will Want More Filet Mignon, and Life in General Will Be Same

One of the queer things about marriage is the artless belief that both men and women entertain that there is some magic in the wedding ceremony that will not only change the entire natures and characters of those they marry, but their own.

The man who drinks too much thinks that marriage is a sure-fire cure that will keep him from ever thirsting for a high-ball again. The philanderer, who has a wandering foot and an eye out for every pretty girl, is sure that he will go domestic as soon as he is married, and that he will never want to stir from his own fireside of an evening. The spendthrift expects marriage to sew up the holes in his pockets, and the lazy, good-for-nothing never doubts that matrimony will put the conjure on him that will turn him into a go-getter.

BREAD AND KISSES ENOUGH

And it is the same way with women. When a girl is in love, she thinks that when she is married that she will be willing to live on bread and cheese and kisses and wear basement bargains, and that she will desire no more exciting amusement than sitting at home with Jim listening to the radio. She may have spent years in perfecting herself for some career, but she will chuck her mahogany desk for a gas stove, and expect to get a kick out of asking her husband for carfare instead of having her own pocketbook.

She knows that she has never had any yen for household drudgery before, but she thinks that as soon as she is married that it will be thrilling sport to cook three square meals a day, and that washing dishes and scrubbing floors will be just nice, clean fun.

Of course, they have never seen this miracle happen to anyone else, but they still have a superstitious faith that this transformation will take place in themselves, and nothing surprises them so much as to discover that after marriage they are just the same human beings that they were before, with the same tastes and desires and habits.

The drunkard still craves his liquor. Casanova gets fed up on babies and boiled dinners and longs for the bright lights and glamorous dames. And the lazy man sits back and lets Georgina do it.

W. I. in Northern Alberta

By MRS. HUGH J. MONTGOMERY—Box 514, Wetaskiwin.

The Council of Alberta Women's Institutes will meet in Calgary on Feb. 23, 24 and 25. Besides the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, it is expected the directors from the four districts in the province will be in attendance. Mrs. M. L. Thompson, provincial president, of Coaldale, will preside.

FAIRVIEW

A heavy program of war work has been planned for the coming months when members will make a quilt each month as well as two ditty bags. A Valentine party was an event of the past week. Mrs. Hemstock is president and Mrs. McLaughlin is secretary.

BUSBY

Mrs. A. Macdonald, of Alcomdale paid her official visit as constituency convener and spoke on the work of the W.I. in war time. Mrs. H. Smith also spoke, giving an educational paper on the importance of life work. Parcels were sent overseas and friends who were ill were sent gifts of fruit.

GRANDE PRAIRIE

Post-war reconstruction was the subject of a paper given by Mrs. D. W. Patterson, district director when she addressed the W.I. this month at the home of Mrs. A. R. Hillman. The war work convener reported that four quilts were completed and shipped in January. A talent tea will be held this month.

BON ACCORD

"Rationing Alternatives and Substitutes," was the subject of an address presented by Mrs. T. Anderson before the W.I. when members met at the home of the secretary, Mrs. L. Nielson recently. Household hints were exchanged in answer to the roll call.

PENHOLD W.I. GIRLS' CLUB

The girls plan a tea for early March, the proceeds to be divided, part to be donated to the Merchant Marine and part for the purchase of quilt materials. Four letters received in appreciation of ditty bags and were read from sailors, (one American, one English and one Russian).

Just as he used to let his Mother support him.

DREAMS FADE OUT

And the girl finds out that after marriage she is just as hungry for flirt mignon as she was before; that her interest in good clothes has not abated; that she can get awfully bored spending her evenings trying to make conversation with a husband who has muffled himself in his newspaper and only grunts when he is spoken to. And the lost career, the fat pay envelope and the mahogany desk brighten as they fade.

Now it is understandable how in the excess of our vanity we might take a sporting chance on marrying someone of whom we did not wholly approve as the fond belief he could make them over nearer to our hearts' desire, and that he or she would be different after marriage, anyway. But the marvel is that anyone can be dumb enough to think that way about themselves. For we all know that by the time we reach a marriageable age we are pretty well set in our habits and tastes and opinions, and that the mumbled of a few words over us doesn't change our natures. If we are restless and like to go places and do things, we will still want to go and do things, no matter how many times we are married.

On the contrary, if we are human turtles with our houses on our backs, our idea of an exciting evening will be to sit at home and watch the baby breathe, and no husband or wife can galvanize us into action. We will not be illiterate on one side of the altar and literate on the other, and we will crave French cooking or New England, according as we have been reared, unaffected by whether we are married or single.

Perhaps there is no other one thing that is responsible for so much domestic woe as this fatuous belief that marriage will change us from what we are into something entirely different, for it rarely happens. What we are, stay, modified to a certain extent, but mainly the same old Adam and Eve.

The moral of all of which is that we should consider long and prayerfully whether we are fitted by Nature for the role we are contemplating undertaking. Let us not expect marriage to change us. It won't do it.

WEISFORD W.I. GIRLS' CLUB

Edith Glaser told how to make attractive book ends at home and the members held a round table discussion on interior decoration when the club met recently. Choclates, presented by West Union school in appreciation of the loan of dishes made to them by the club, were enjoyed. A birthday meeting is being planned for this month.

ENILDA

The W.I. donated a blanket to Greek relief and members packed a box of clothing. The Ration Board will be asked to allow more sugar for canning if possible this year as wild fruits were wanted for want of it in the north of the province last year. A program was prepared for the year's meetings. Mrs. Stokes conducted an interesting contest on the names of men now in the news. Mrs. Steeves was the winner.

MEANOOK

The W.I. appealed to the Dominion president of Women's Institutes asking her to use her influence to get more canning sugar for the rural women this year so wild fruits might be preserved. A Valentine and pie social has been a recent event of interest.

INNISFREE

New discoveries in medicine were described when Mrs. Ganton gave a health talk before the W.I. at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Waddell. A bingo party was held and furnished funds from which to send parcels to men overseas.

STROME

Mrs. Clark gave a talk on Scotland, telling of its cities and historic places when she gave an address here in honor of the Scottish Bard, Robert Burns. Members are busy piecing quilt tops for the Red Cross.

ALIX

Quilts are being made as part of the W.I. war work. Letters were received from many of the boys who were remembered at Christmas. A donation was made to the F.W.I. birthday fund.

PICARDVILLE

Members turned in a number of articles for the Red Cross and Merchant Marine. Letters of appreciation were read from soldiers and sailors who had received gifts from the W.I.

HAYTER

Mrs. William Lewis told what is being done in some of the larger centres for the treatment and control of venereal diseases. A large number of visitors were present to assist with Red Cross sewing and a number of articles on display.

PEACE RIVER

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

Today, when many a mother is left alone with her children or is compelled to live with them in a strange city bereft of relatives, friends and even a husband except for limited periods, there is an overwhelming temptation to allow children to fill all the roles heretofore filled by others.

As one mother explained, when her husband went away she was so desperately lonely she took her 2-year-old in bed with her, just for company. Now that the crisis is past and she would like the child to sleep in her crib, she is adamant against the change.

As we look around us we see too many parents clutching their children to them, possessing them utterly, because it is personally satisfying to do so. The parent thinks only of himself—for it is most often a woman—and gives little or no consideration to the effect on the child.

These "possessed" children have little opportunity to become independent and self-reliant. They are always being protected and indulged by adoring parents. They cannot step out of the house without a watchful parent beside them. All of their amusements are family-flavored. They go out to dinner, to the movies, to play golf, to skate, in the company with one or both of the parents.

Their lives are lived in a tight, little family circle, excluding the world, excluding friends of their own—except as they accept the family—so that increasingly they become more dependent upon it.

Parents bask in such an atmosphere. They feel themselves to be protective, loving, self-sacrificing parents—everything for the children. They cannot see their own selfishness nor their deprivation of the child's dearest possession, his growing independence.

GOLD INSIGNIA ARE NOT HIGHER RANK THAN SILVER ONES

Many people erroneously believe that army officers wearing gold insignia on their uniforms are higher in rank than those wearing silver ones. This is quite the reverse of the truth. Here is the list of official insignia: General, two silver stars; brigadier general, one silver star; colonel, one silver eagle; lieutenant colonel, one silver oak leaf; major, one gold oak leaf; captain, two silver bars; first lieutenant, one silver bar; second lieutenant, one gold bar. It is obvious that the higher ranks are indicated by silver, and the lower by gold, whether the insignia are silver bars, oak leaves or stars. The above references are to the United States Army insignia.

The unhappy aspect of this is that inevitably it MUST end. Parents die, or the child marries and falls into a situation in which independence is imperative, without there ever having been the least training for it.

In such cases too many children run home to mother at the least provocation, boys fall back on the indulgent father when their business efforts fail, in both cases showing evidence of their failure to be weaned from the family.

They still are children, whatever their age or supposed responsibilities. Such immature adults are entirely the result of parents who have muffled their opportunities. Only the parent is to blame.

Our leaflet, "Training for Independence," outlines the earliest steps for achieving the adult goal. Simply mail your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldered in care of this newspaper, and include a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

MY DAY

WASHINGTON.—To my readers who live in New York City, and incidentally to those who live in other cities where a like situation may exist, I should like to suggest that anyone who has a spare room in his house keep in touch with the Officers' Service Committee in New York City, the office is in the Hotel Commodore, and there is a housing desk run by the committee, where rooms and apartments are procured for officers and their families. It is difficult for a woman to arrive in a big city, expecting to meet her husband, sometimes with a child or two, only to find that he has not yet arrived or that he has already sailed away.

Big cities are crowded these days. People with limited incomes cannot always afford hotel prices and I know that this particular service has been of great help to many men and to their families.

Of course, there are many other things that are done for the officers. They can procure lists of places of entertainment and theatre tickets at half price. They can get information on many subjects and I am sure arrangements can be made for any particular thing they wish to do.

This housing service, however, has especially appealed to me. In New York City it is headed by Mrs. Herbert Carlebach, and I hear that her difficulties are very great at the present time. So if you have a spare room at any time, let her know, or put yourself on her list so she can call you and find out if you have any free space when she is looking for accommodations.

This is Negro History Week, from February 13th to February 20th inclusive. In Chicago, Negro history is being taught in the schools. It seems to me that this might well be done in some of our other big cities to give some background knowledge about our largest minority group in this country.

On Saturday I went with the President to pay homage at the Lincoln Memorial, and we were reminded that this is the 11th year that the President has attended the ceremonies. The most colorful part is the sight of the waving flags coming down the steps, with the great statue of Lincoln sitting so calmly on its pedestal, looking down on the men who revere his memory, but who have not yet achieved the greatness for their country which was Lincoln's ideal.

In the afternoon I went to the Navy Yard with my husband. He spoke over the radio at the ceremonies attending the turning over of an American destroyer escort to the French. The ship's officers and men presented me with a lovely bouquet of red roses. Mrs. John Roosevelt and I went on board for a glance at the quarters.

McDOUGALL

By Reva Taradash

At noon Monday, St. Valentine's day, the auditorium was filled with excited students all anxious to take their chance in the "fish pond." Laughter could be heard from one end of the school to the other as students joyfully opened their surprise packages, containing such articles as jewelry, soaps, powder, jam, baby bottles, face cream, fountain pens, and last but not least bottles of various shapes, sizes, and scents or perfume. A profit of $7.69 was made in this exciting noon hour.

The February war savings drive has commenced, with the students just as eager to do their part as they were last month. A quota of 50 cents a person has been set. The two rooms leading so far are Room 11, and Room 15 a close second. The third edition of the Chronicle has just been published. Although it is considerably shorter this time, there was enough news and good reading matter to satisfy all.

Nurse Addresses Knox W.M.S.

Speaking on "The Gift of Health" to members of Knox W.M.S. at a meeting in the church on Thursday, Miss Helen McArthur, acting director of the School of Nursing, University of Alberta, said that not sufficient advantage is taken of the many health services and clinics now available to every person.

She stressed the value of prevention of communicable diseases by means of inoculation, and told of the work of the cancer and tuberculosis clinics. She also spoke of the travelling clinics in rural districts.

By comparison, she said that the medical missionaries and nurses in the Chinese mission fields, faced great handicaps. China was looking to Canada for an example of the democratic way of life.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. James Douglas, who stressed the close affiliation of church and hospital for the healing of soul and body. In the missionary field the church was followed by the school and the hospital, she said.

Devotional exercises were taken by Mrs. A. I. Millar. The vocal soloist was Mrs. H. H. Crawford and the accompanist was Mrs. J. W. Martins.

SUPERMAN

JERRY SIEGEL AND JOE SHUSTER

BUT WHICHEVER SERVICE SHE JOINS, HER THREE BOY FRIENDS IN THE OTHER SERVICES YOW THEY'LL NEVER SPEAK TO HER AGAIN!

JUDY KING STILL CAN'T MAKE UP HER MIND WHETHER TO JOIN THE WAVES, THE SPARS OR THE MARINES--AND ALL BECAUSE SUPERMAN PROVED TO HER THAT ALL BRANCHES OF THE U.S. FORCES ARE PRETTY TERRIFIC.

BUT THIS IS WAR, LOIS, SHE'LL HAVE TO MAKE UP HER MIND!

HERE'S JUDY NOW.

AND I TRUST SHE'S REACHED A DECISION!

BUT I HAVEN'T AND IT'S WORSE THAN EVER.

TOM, DICK, HARRY AND BILL HAVE ALL BEEN SENT TO THE AMPHIBIOUS TRAINING BASE AT BRADFORD, VIRGINIA. THEY'RE ALL TOGETHER, AND THERE'LL BE TERRIBLE FIGHTS!

JUDY, I'M GETTING A LITTLE SICK OF YOU! I THINK WE'D BETTER HOP DOWN TO BRADFORD FOR A SHOWDOWN!

D-DO YOU THINK THAT MIGHT WORK?

IF YOU THINK YOU'RE GOING WITHOUT ME--THINK AGAIN!

MOMENTS LATER, THE MAN OF STEEL IS STREAKING TOWARD CHESAPEAKE BAY WITH HIS BEAUTEFUL BURDENS...

THIS IS WONDERFUL!

REMEMBER, JUDY, THIS ISN'T A JOY RIDE--IT'S STRICTLY A BUSINESS TRIP!

PRESENTLY, IN THE OFFICE OF CAPTAIN J.W. WHITFIELD, U.S.N., COMMANDANT OF THE AMPHIBIOUS TRAINING BASE

WE'RE PUTTING ON A FULL-SCALE AMPHIBIOUS EXERCISE AT DAWN. CAPT WHITFIELD HAS INSTRUCTED ME TO LET YOU OBSERVE FROM THE BEACH.

SORT OF A PRE-VIEW OF VICTORY, SIR?

EXACTLY. WE'RE TRAINING MEN FROM ALL BRANCHES OF THE SERVICES TO ACT AS A TEAM--TEACHING THEM THE VALUE OF WORKING TOGETHER TO STORM AND HOLD ENEMY BEACH HEADS!

SO, IN THE PRE-DAWN GLOOM, THE PARTY WAITS ON THE "INVASION" BEACH.

SOMEWHERE OUT THERE IN THE DARKNESS, OUR "INVASION" FORCES ARE APPROACHING...

IT'S A GREAT TEMPTATION NOT TO USE MY X-RAY VISION TO PICK THEM OUT!

AND AS THE DAWN BREAKS, THE MOCK ATTACK BEGINS IN DEADLY EARNEST. TROOPS, TANKS AND EQUIPMENT POUR ASHORE FROM TRANSPORTS STANDING FAR OUT ON THE HORIZON... BEDLAM BREAKS LOOSE.

THIS IS IT, JUDY--THIS IS WHAT AN INVASION LOOKS LIKE!

I HOPE TOM, DICK, HARRY AND BILL DON'T SPOIL IT BY FIGHTING AMONG THEMSELVES!

WE'LL SEE!
